

Welcome to the Heddon Valley where the South West Coast Path dips down to the sea close to Heddon's Mouth.

Heddon's Gate is tucked away high up on the eastern side of the river and hidden at the end of a quarter-mile private drive. The hotel is set in more than 2½ acres of its own gardens and woodland with panoramic views to the west and is perfectly positioned to take full advantage of sunny afternoons.

Midway between Lynton and Combe Martin and just one mile from the sea, Heddon's Gate Hotel has an illusion of remoteness in an idyllic setting.
